

Track your reading time online at <http://merrimacklibrary.beanstack.org> OR use this paper log by coloring one block for each 15 minutes you read between June 24 and August 15. When you've completed the log, visit the library for your prize(s)! One log = 10 hours.

Amazing!
That's Two Hours!

Keep it up!

You Can Do It!

You're almost there!

Less than 1 hour
left!

And they all lived happily
Ever After!!
The End!

Congratulations! You've completed the Summer Reading Challenge!

But guess what? Read more, earn more prizes AND help us reach our 8,000 hour goal!

Celebrate your victory at our Finale Concert in the Park on August 12th at 6:00 PM!

Studies have shown that kids and teens who read regularly during vacation months begin the school year with better reading skills than their classmates who did not read.

Just 15 minutes a day will do the trick. Read what you like! Books, magazines, e-books, comics, manga, and audiobooks all count. Being read to or reading aloud to someone else counts too. Reading time can be done in segments throughout the day. It doesn't matter what or how you read, as long as you do!

This year's goal is to read a combined 8,000 hours during our 8 week program. Every minute you log in Beanstack helps us reach our goal and defeat the Summer Reading Challenge! When we reach our goal, the Friends of the Merrimack Library will make a donation to the Humane Society for Greater Nashua to benefit people in our community.

Babies and toddlers ages 0 –36 months can participate in the Summer Reading Challenge too! Pick up our Early Literacy Log to track reading activities with little ones.

Teens and adults can also participate in the Summer Reading Challenge. Each age group has its own events and perks. Speak to the staff about getting the whole family signed up!

Prizes for finishing your reading log include: a certificate of completion, a prize book of your choice, a digital raffle ticket towards bigger prizes, and more!
